SUBJECT Edwin Wilson

ANN TAYLOR: A former CIA agent, Edwin Wilson, is in a New York City jail. He's been indicted on a number of charges, including providing training for terrorists in Libya.

NBC correspondent Mike Moss has the story.

MIKE MOSS: Wilson was arraigned before a federal magistrate in Brooklyn. No plea was entered because Wilson's lawyer wasn't here. Bail for Wilson was set at $20 million, and he was taken to the Metropolitan Correction Center to spend the night.

Wilson, described by the magistrate as a man of considerable resources, was arrested this morning when he tried to enter the Dominican Republic on a fake passport. He faces a host of charges, including selling arms to Libya, for which he could be sent to prison for life.

Wilson will be back in court here in Brooklyn tomorrow morning.
